Johnny Veselka, TASA Executive Director and Alan Morris, LenSec Regional Sales Director

LenSec, the leading provider of IP-based video surveillance solutions to cities, school districts, and universities, announces that it has received special recognition from the Texas Association of School Administrators (TASA) for their continued Platinum-Level support through the TASA Corporate Partners Program.

TASA, a premier professional organization for Texas education leaders, promotes, provides, and develops leadership that champions educational excellence. Members include top-level executives in nearly every public school district in Texas. The Corporate Partners Program allows opportunities for corporate leaders to communicate with and connect to vital school leaders through TASA's professional development activities, legislative advocacy efforts, and communication vehicles.

"We greatly appreciate LenSec's enduring support of TASA's vision to empower educational leaders in cultivating positive school climates in which quality education can thrive," said Johnny Veselka, TASA Executive Director. "It is a pleasure to present LenSec with a special plaque in record of TASA's appreciation for their dedication and support as a Platinum Corporate Partner."

LenSec provides school districts turn-key IP video surveillance solutions which center on their integrated suite of software, providing for password-authorized, browser-based access from any computer. LenSec provides a complete, customized solution, including system design, software, hardware, installation, and ongoing service.

"LenSec has a strong commitment to school safety initiatives and the protection of schoolchildren, staff and facilities throughout Texas as well as across the country," states Alan Morris, Regional Sales Director. "We are excited to receive this special recognition about our involvement with TASA, as it demonstrates LenSec's commitment to supporting TASA's mission to enrich the educational experience for Texas public school students by providing them with an opportunity to provide a more safe and secure learning environment."
